ASES

O Fairest Monticello

O fairest Monticello
We bring to thee our praise;
It is with deepest rev'rence
That we our voices raise,
As on through life we journey,
Sweet mem'ries will remain.

The years of toil and pleasure,
Replete with wisdom's gain,
Those years of richest measure
That will not come again,
May we be ever worthy,
Standing firm without a fear;

May we your ideals echo,
O Alma Mater dear,
You who would join the numbers
That form her glorious past,
Pledge yourselves to Monticello,
Faithful to the last.

THE TRADITIONAL Echo '48

BRYNER PUBLIC LIBRARY DISTRICT
ALTON, ILLINOIS

Presentation

This is the Echo of Tradition. The wealth of traditions inherited from generations of preceding classes is presented as the theme of this pictorial and literary summary of the activities on the campus of Monticello College in 1948.

Monticello is a monument to the enthusiasm, loyalty, and work of those who have conceived the rich traditions and expanding ideals which embody the spirit of Monti life.

To the heritage and culture of Monticello College; as a tribute to the richness of our college life; and in hope that cherished traditions will remain constant; we devote the Echo of the class of 1948.

Dedication

The Class of 1948 dedicates this book to Dr. John Ripley Young, President of Monticello College.

Though varied paths are followed after graduation, each and every one of us will remember Dr. Young as a wise and inspiring friend. His unaffected personality has endeared him to all, and although we will miss him, we will always remember his genial smile, his cheery "hello," his entertaining words, his great devotion to the field of education.

We consider it a privilege to take this opportunity to honor Dr. Young, under whose diligent leadership Monticello has continued to uphold and strengthen the ideals for which she stands.

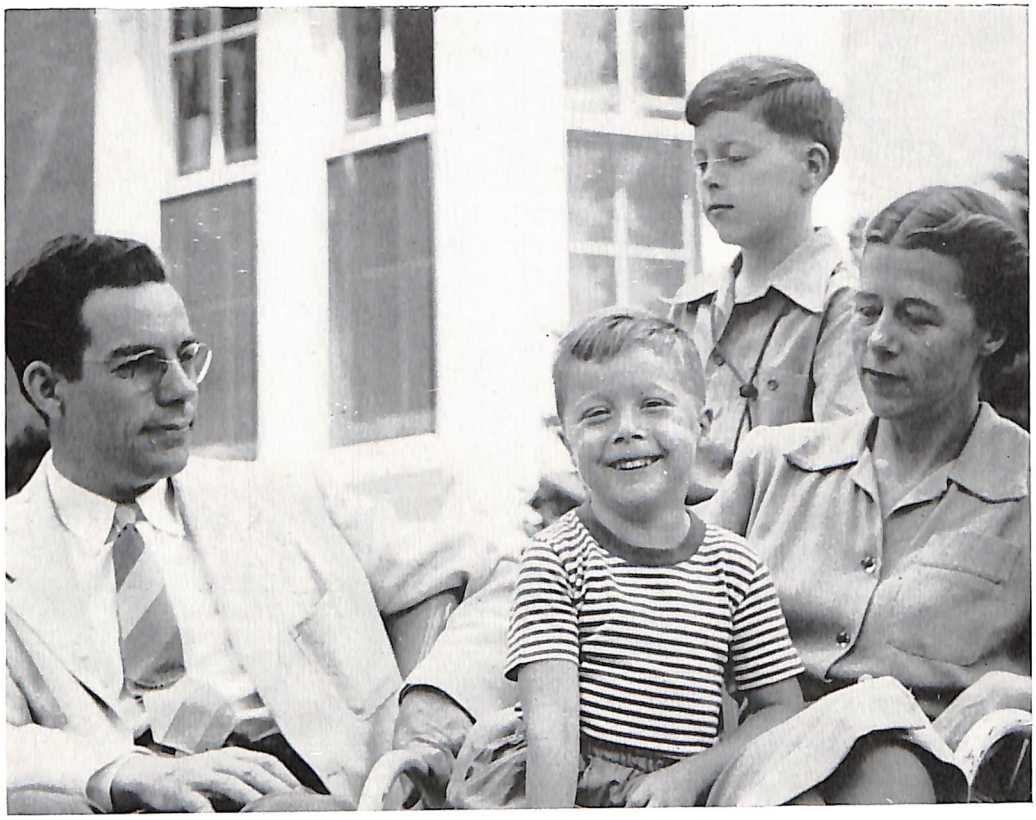
In formal best, faculty and student body begin the fellowship that continues in classroom, in laboratory, and on playing field.

Faculty

To the Class of 1948 . . .

You represent a minority group against which, fortunately, there is little prejudice! You have been blessed as none of your predecessors and few of your contemporaries. You have been born into a family, a country, and a time in history which can offer you the accumulated fruits of man's struggles down the ages. The privileges of education in a free country are yours; yours, also, is the responsibility for bringing peace, cooperation and brotherhood to a warped and soul-sick world. It is a glorious opportunity—and a sobering responsibility!

J. R. YOUNG



Dr. Young, Jimmy, Jack, and Mrs. Young

Dr. John Ripley Young received his B.A. degree from Marshall College and M.A. and Ph.D. degrees from the University of Illinois.

As President of Monticello, it is Dr. Young's responsibility to arrive at the solutions for the administrative and educational problems of the college.

Both Dr. and Mrs. Young are well-known for their cordial hospitality in the Evergreens and their attendance at the receptions, dances, assembly, and vesper programs.

Greatly interested in civic activities, Dr. Young is an active member of the Rotary Club, and is also associated with the Community Chest. He excels in various sports, and many students know his ping pong ability from first-hand experience. The humorous stories with which Dr. Young amuses those at the head table are famous on the campus.

Board of Trustees

Fred Kuehne, Marshall Acker, Dr. John R. Young, D. Howard Doane
Mrs. S. T. Olin, Mrs. W. W. Parsons, Eben Rodgers, president, Mrs. T. S. Chapman, Mrs. G. S. Milnor

The responsibility for the over-all government of Monticello College lies with the nine men and women whom we recognize as the board of trustees. The members serve for a period of eight years and meet on the campus once every two months to discuss the policies and business matters of the college.

Eben Rodgers, recently retired president of the Alton Brick Company, serves as president of the Board with Mrs. Spencer T. Olin (Ann Whitney, '25) officiating as secretary.

The other seven members of the board who give so generously of their time and effort for the benefit of the college are Mrs. William Wood Parsons of Terre Haute, president of Monticello from 1910 to 1918; Mrs. Theodore Chapman, widow of the late T. S. Chapman, who was the former chairman of the board of trustees; Mrs. George Sparks Milnor (Alice Ryrie, '11) of Wilmette, Illinois; Marshall Acker, vice-president of Olin Industries, Inc., of Alton; D. Howard Doane, chairman of the board of the Doane Agricultural Service of St. Louis; Fred Kuehne, president of the Kuehne Manufacturing Co., who serves as chairman of the property committee of the board; and Dr. John R. Young, president of the college, who is a member ex-officio.

A scholarship reserve fund was established by the trustees this past year for the purpose of expanding educational opportunities for worthy students of the college. Profits from such campus enterprises as the bookstore, coin-operated machines, the Cabin, and the money given by graduating classes for scholarship purposes, are to be turned over to this fund.

Administration

Audley Noel Sullivan
Assistant to the President
Director of Admissions
B.S., University of Nebraska

As Director of Admissions, Mr. Sullivan carries on all correspondence with prospective students. He is assisted in the responsibility by four field representatives.

In the capacity of Assistant to the President, Mr. Sullivan handles all public relations concerning Monticello College. Every Monti girl soon recognizes "Sully" as a friend.

Mary Laing Swift
Academic Dean
A.B., Vassar College; M.A., Columbia University

Miss Mary Laing Swift, Academic Dean, arranges the school curriculum and examination schedules. She is the chairman of the Advising Committee, and thus has charge of all registration, counselling, and permanent faculty advisers of the students. She also supervises the students' selection of courses, giving special attention to transfer requirements.

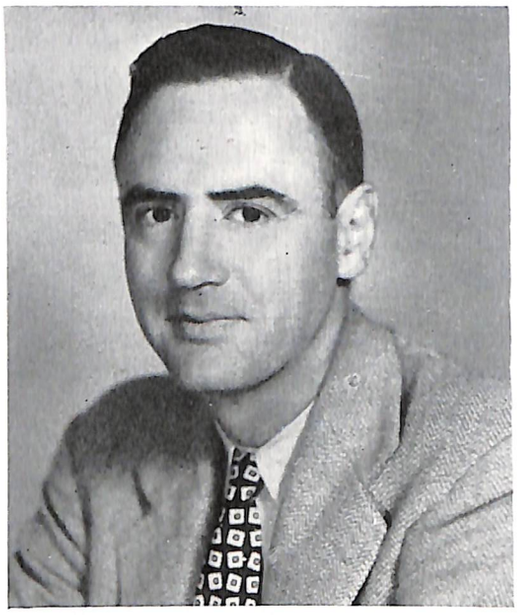
Miss Swift is also faculty adviser to the Student Council.

Alice May Morrill
Dean of Women
Ph.B., Denison University;
M.A., Northwestern University

As Dean of Women, Mrs. Alice May Morrill is responsible for the administration of social privileges and the supervision of all student residences. She also has the task of picking compatible roommates for new students.

Mrs. Morrill is faculty adviser to the Student Residence Council. Perhaps her most important duty is to help the girls adjust to the new experience of college life.

Administration



WENDEL H. BAKER
Business Manager
A.B., University of Missouri

Wendel H. Baker, business manager of the College and treasurer to the board of trustees, takes care of all financial matters pertaining to the college. His duties include purchasing supplies and operating the student bank, at which students make deposits and withdrawals.

Mr. Baker, with the aid of the maintenance staff, also supervises the buildings and grounds and sees that necessary repairs are made.

ERMINA E. BUSCH
Registrar
A.B., University of Illinois

Planning and organizing the September registration and the year's schedule with Dean Swift, compiling statistics on enrollment and classes, receiving high school transcripts, and preparing college transcripts are among the duties of Miss Ermina Busch, registrar. Miss Busch also records and sends out student grades.

FLORENCE DUREE
Social Director
B.A., University of Nebraska

Mrs. Duree's duties as Social Chairman include scheduling events on the school calendar, planning teas and receptions, and arranging trips into St. Louis for concerts, plays, and operas.

Supervising dances, the smokehouse, the dining room, and the Western lists are a part of her responsibilities as faculty adviser to the Social Committee. She is also adviser for the senior class.

Administration

JOSEPH A. L. RUSSO
Director of Publications
A.B., Harvard College

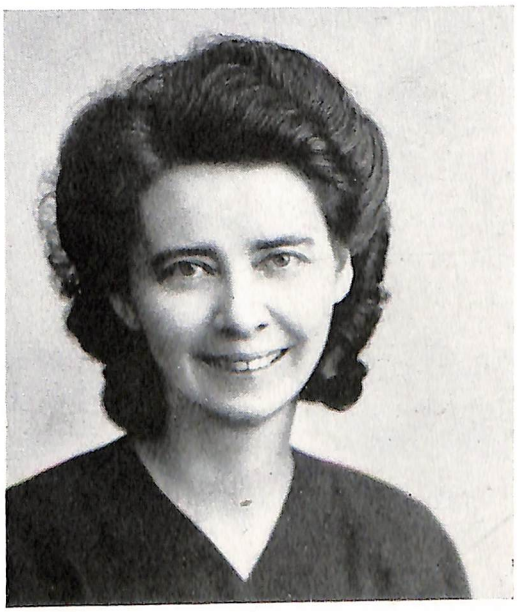
Besides assisting the students to produce the Times, Monticello's school paper, and the Echo, Mr. Russo also supervises college publications.

All school publicity is under his care. Photography of Monticello people and activities is an important part of his work.

MARY J. PFEIFFENBERGER
Alumnae Secretary
A.A., Monticello College; B.A., Wellesley College

As alumnae secretary, Miss Pfeiffenberger manages to keep contact with the 3900 Monticello alumnae. Besides seeing that every visiting alumna is entertained, she actively participates in meetings and reunions all over the country.

The Alumnae Bulletin, under her editorship, is published three times each year.



IRMADEAN HABERLY
Librarian
B.A., Pomona College;
M.A., Claremont Gradute School
Senior Certificate, Los Angeles Library School;
Graduate Library School, University of Chicago

Mrs. Haberly supervises the selecting, purchasing and cataloging of new books for the Monticello Library. To help students locate books and publications for their studies is one of her principal tasks.

The planning of the annual Book Fair in the library gives the students a view of the best recent books and an opportunity to buy them at school.

English Department

Ronald V. Cassill
B.A., M.A., University of Iowa

All Monticello students study English. Every girl is given the opportunity of learning how to read with appreciation, and to express her thoughts creatively both in oral and written exposition.

Juniors are placed in an English composition course which teaches them to write correctly and expressively. Criticism of themes and discussions of essays, short stories, novels, poems, and plays, are the techniques employed.

A course in Biblical Literature is offered covering both the Old and New Testaments of the King James Version, which is treated not from a theological point of view, but rather as a cultural heritage of English speaking people. English literature, a course open to seniors only, is a study of classical literature from the eighth century to the present.

One of the more advanced courses in the English Department is American literature combined with American history, known as A.C. and C. (American Culture and Civilization.)

Physical Education Department

Winifred Morrison
Chairman, Department of Physical Education
B.S., Kansas City Teachers College

It is a recognized fact that a sound body should accompany a sound mind, and for this reason every girl at Monticello participates in the Physical Education program. The ideals of companionship, fair play, and sportsmanship are emphasized as a part of good living and good playing.

The year is divided into three sport seasons. The sports offered include archery, badminton, basketball, fencing, golf, hockey, swimming, life-saving, riding, softball, tennis, and volleyball. Each girl is allowed to select her favorite although it is required that one be a team sport.

A voluntary sports program is offered after school, and from the two hundred girls who participated were chosen the various teams which represented Monticello at the play days here on our own campus or at other colleges.

Special events of the year were the Monticello Horse Show, the Marlin Pageant and the Sports Banquets.

Language Department

Paul John Cooke
Chairman, Department of Foreign Languages
A.B., A.M., Ph.D.,
University of Illinois

At Monticello two years of French and Spanish are offered, and in Spanish two additional advanced courses are provided: Conversation and Spanish Literature. Spanish Literature enables the student to become acquainted with the language as well as the literature, the culture, and the history of Spain.

Students are provided with a language lounge which is available at all times in order to help them practice their conversation and add to their understanding of the Spanish and French peoples. Here are many records of native songs and bookshelves filled with novels, dictionaries, and reference books. Colorful sombreros and travel posters decorate the walls. French and Spanish weekly newspapers are always on hand so that the student may keep abreast of recent developments and trends of thought in these countries.

Social Science Department

HOMER F. YOUNG
Chairman, Department of Social Sciences
B.A., Ohio University; M.A., Harvard University

Social science deals with the origin of human society and social phenomena; the progress of civilization and its laws.

In an age when this study may determine the policies of a new world, its practical as well as technical points are of unmeasurable value. At Monticello the department is composed as follows: history, sociology, government, economics and geography.

History may be defined as all that man has ever done or thought or said. The classes in modern European history are made up mostly of juniors. Here the evolution of thought is discussed from medieval times to the present day.

Sociology concerns man in relation to his own social surroundings. Problems of society, the home, the school, and the community, in terms of the individual are examined by the Sociology classes. The study of government and economics gives the student an opportunity to prepare herself for correct political thinking.

The physical surface of the earth, with its peoples, animals and products, is examined in the geography classes.

The International Relations Club is sponsored by Homer Young, chairman of the social science department.

Natural Science Department

Lucretia Cressey
Chairman, Department of Natural Science
A.B., University of Illinois; M.A., Columbia University; graduate study, University of Chicago

The science department is composed of three main sections: chemistry, biology, and mathematics. The well-equipped laboratories on third floor Fobes are a source of constant amazement to Monticello students and visitors.

Courses in zoology, botany, and general biology are offered in the biology division which is supervised by Miss Gulick, Miss Challand, and Miss Hall. Jaunts back campus and trips to Shaw's Garden and the St. Louis Zoo were particularly attractive to the students.

Miss Cressey and Miss Wilfred, as the mainstays of the chemistry department, teach courses in both general and organic chemistry, and qualitative and quantitative analysis. Backgrounds for the future study of chemistry, home economics, nursing, and nutrition are provided by these courses. This year the organic chemistry students and faculty enjoyed a dinner which they prepared and ate in the laboratory.

In the mathematics section, algebra is taught by Miss Hall.

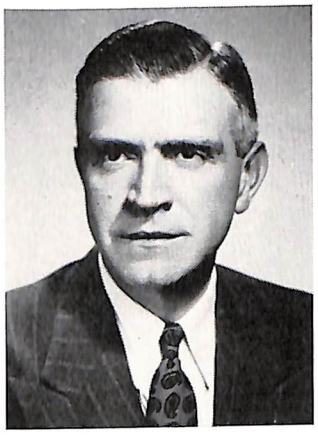
Music Department

ALLAN SLY
Chairman, Department of Music
Graduate in Music, University of Reading, England

STEPHEN BENNETT WILLIAMS
Mus.B., Chicago Musical College; M.A., University of Iowa



A wide variety of musical activities and instructions is offered at Monticello. For those who sing or play, for those who attend concerts or collect records, for those who plan a career for further study of music at senior colleges or professional schools, differing programs of study are available.

Bi-monthly Serenade Concerts given in the Caldwell Drawing Room serve to bring performers and listeners together in a congenial atmosphere. Spring recitals focus attention on the earnest and sustained efforts of gifted students.

The Monticello Choir plays an essential part in the Sunday Vesper Services. It also gives two public concerts annually, and makes occasional out of town trips. A new glee club department was created in the choir this year. The glee club sings with the choir on all occasions except the Vesper Services.

Visual Arts Department

HELEN F. PATTON
Chairman, Department of Visual Arts
B.S., George Peabody College for Teachers; M.A., University of Chicago

The primary objective of the art department is to develop a personal basis for analysis, understanding, and appreciation in the visual arts, and to institute a sound foundation for achievement in the fine or applied arts.

Practicing artists comprise the staff and with the aid of large and well equipped studios and small groups every member of the class receives a maximum of individual instruction in her personal creative efforts.

An important and valuable course in the art department is Art History, consisting of an introduction to art in various civilizations and their contributions to contemporary forms. Students are offered a course in sculpturing which includes modeling in clay, life studies, carving in wood and stone, ceramic sculpture, and pottery. Practical courses in drawing and painting undertake still life, landscape and life studies. Courses in basic design, dress design, interior decoration, and commercial art are also provided.

Traveling exhibitions and displays of student work are shown throughout the year.

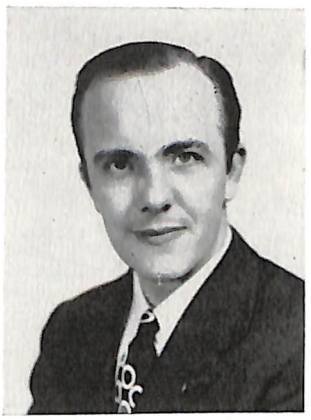
Health Department



JOHN WEDIG, M.D.
College Physician

Regardless of the ailment, a Monti girl has the reassuring knowledge that there is always a graduate nurse on call at the infirmary. Three times a week Dr. Smith and Dr. Wedig make routine calls, and for patients needing hospital care, the Blue Cross Hospital Plan, in which every student participates, helps out with the expenses.

During the first week of school every Monti student is given a thorough physical examination by the health department. A record of this examination is kept on file in the infirmary office for further reference.

The infirmary is the only place on campus where the girls are served breakfast in bed, accompanied by the cheery good morning of Miss Gilmour. This year the infirmary boasts of the recent arrival of four new hospital beds, gift of the Monticello Dads' Club.

Psychology Department

Patricia Locke
B.A., University of Kansas; M.A., University of Kansas City

The question, "why we behave like human beings," furnishes material for many lively discussions in the psychology classes.

Students early discover that the "laws" of psychology are still in the making, but that scientific study has developed many valuable insights into the prediction and control of human behavior. A thorough exploration of important questions awakens new avenues of thought about the meaning of individual behavior. The students are urged to apply the results of study in the formation of personal goals and attitudes.

Speech and Drama Department

Monticello is proud to have one of the finest drama departments in the country. Mrs. Solveig Sullivan is director of this department which offers to its members classes in acting, directing, play production, radio, voice and diction, and rehearsal and performance. W. Vladimir Rousseff, who is technical director of this department, designs and makes many of the striking stage sets and costumes in the plays.

One of the major productions given during the year was "Jack and the Beanstalk." This excellent performance was an outstanding event of the college year.

Faculty Lounge

The faculty lounge, like the student smokehouse, is an active and interesting place, especially after meals. There, most of the faculty may be found relaxing, playing bridge, or just chatting. This year the lounge is especially attractive since its renovation was accomplished by the interior decoration class under the direction of Miss Helen Patton.

Students spent many weeks choosing materials, planning colors and arranging combinations to make the room more pleasant. Many visits to St. Louis and Alton were made by Dot Johnson, Mary Barrick, Jane Eckenrode, Marjorie McKeague, Larkin Ogden, Jean Durfee, Netia Beebe, Marian Kitz, Claudia Marks, Betsy Tubman, Joan Young and LaVerna Schultz, who are the members responsible for the project.

Hillis Arnold contributed six originally created lamps which enhance the pleasant atmosphere of the lounge.

Student Council

President . . . . . MARILYN MCDONALD
Vice-President . . . . . JACKIE BROERMAN
Secretary . . . . . SUSAN WISHERD
Treasurer . . . . . PATRICIA WOODBURY

Every member of the Monticello student body is a member of the Student Association, which is governed by the Student Council.

The Student Council voices the opinions and ideas of individual students and helps solve the many student problems. It serves as a link between administration and student body and exercises minor disciplinary functions.

The president and vice president were elected by the student body in April of the preceding year, and in the latter part of October, the secretary and treasurer were elected from the incoming junior class.

Presidents of the M.C.A. and M.A.A., class presidents, house chairmen, the chairmen of the Sponsors and of the Social Committee, and the editors of the student publications make up the Student Council. The council meets every Monday to discuss and act on problems that have arisen during the week. Miss Mary Swift is faculty adviser.

The members of the Student Council have justified the confidence the faculty and student body have placed in them.

Monticello Christian Association

President . . . . . JEAN LEWIS
Vice-President . . . . . JOY GRISWOLD
Secretary . . . . . CHARLOTTE MILLS
Treasurer . . . . . TERRY DUNN

The aim of the Monticello Christian Association is to stimulate the students' interest in religion and to provide a means to express religion on our campus. Every student is a member of the M.C.A. and is urged to take part in its discussion groups and projects. The Cabinet, made up of four elected officers and various committee heads, provides leadership for this organization. Dr. Warren Griffiths is the faculty adviser.

This year the Service Council was incorporated with the M.C.A. so that the M.C.A. had more responsibilities than formerly. Each year the M.C.A. undertakes several major projects. The Social Service Committee and student volunteers work with children's groups at the Alton Y.W.C.A. and Hillcrest Settlement House.

During Religious Emphasis Week, which was held in January, Rabbi Robert P. Jacobs, Reverend Erwin Inglis, and Father Bowdern led chapel services and discussion groups, and held private conferences.

The World Student Service Fund drive was promoted by the M.C.A. Money raised by this drive was used for the rehabilitation of universities and students in war-torn countries.

Among the other projects of the M.C.A. were the Red Cross drive, Brotherhood Week, Holy Week services, and the annual Doll Dinner.

Sponsors

Chairman . . . . . PRUDENCE WELLINGTON

From the first day a girl comes to Monti, she finds the sponsors always ready to help her. Whether it's a personal problem or just a question such as "where is Fobes 3?", a sponsor is always ready with an answer.

The sponsor's work begins in the summer when she first meets her junior sponsee through the mail. Through orientation week, the sponsors usually manage to keep new students too busy to think about being homesick.

Each group of sponsors is chosen by the preceding group when it graduates. Good scholarship, citizenship, and personality are the considerations on which a sponsor is chosen. This year the sponsors had their usual spreads, the Black-and-Gold Tea, the bonfire and all-school sing back campus, and the treasure hunt.

Monticello Players

President . . . . . Ann Rovelstad
Vice-President . . . . . Roberta Royse
Secretary . . . . . Sandra Goss
Publicity Chairman . . . . . Nancy Noonan

The Monticello Players, better known as the Monti Drama Club, is the goal of all those students interested in any way in the theater. The organization was established to provide an added opportunity for all drama majors to further extend their activities. New members are chosen each year from Drama students who have participated in the college's social program or have worked with one of the major productions of the year.

This year, as a part of indoctrination of the new students, the Drama Club sponsored an after-dinner coffee to acquaint old and new students. Under the guidance of Mrs. Solveig Sullivan, the Monticello Players have sponsored a "Night of Shakespeare," handled publicity for the major productions, and worked for the benefit of the drama scholarship offered every two years to an outstanding Drama student.

Science Club

President . . . . . Barbara Sievers
Vice-President . . . . . Mary Hay
Secretary . . . . . Jocelyn George
Treasurer . . . . . Bernadetta Bowman
Publicity Manager . . . . . Peggy McGeachin

The aim of the Science Club is to stimulate the students' interest in science and to broaden their general knowledge of physics, chemistry, and biology. This is done by means of student demonstrations, trips, and lectures by students and faculty.

All students enrolled in science classes are eligible to become associate members of the Science Club. After earning twelve points by working on committees and by giving programs they win full membership and are initiated in an impressive ceremony in the spring.

Members claim that their meetings, held every other Thursday, were the most interesting of any school organization, as one learned how liquids change color, how to have beautiful house plants, and saw movies on scientific subjects. Special events of the year were the annual Christmas party, at which carols were sung and birds' Christmas tree decorated, and the picnic in April.

The main project of the year is the Science Open House in the spring, for which each student in the science classes prepared a demonstration or an exhibit. Late in the spring at a tea the officers for next year are elected. Faculty sponsors are Miss Lucretia Cressey and Miss Eleanor Wilfred.

Echo

The Echo staff is the hard-working group who produce the written and pictorial record of the activities, organizations, and personnel of Monticello.

From the first month of school up to the last few, layouts were made, pictures taken, ads gathered, and copy composed behind closed doors. Carefully guarded were certain surprise features of the yearbook.

With the cooperation and helpful advice of Joseph A. Russo, faculty sponsor, all material was carefully edited and presented to the College as a true representation of campus life.

The Times staff is composed of capable and hard-working girls with a journalistic interest. The Monticello Times is put out every two weeks, under the supervision of Joseph A. Russo. Every student, their parents, and many alumnae receive this newspaper and from it find out what Monti students are thinking and doing.

The staff members gain valuable experience in finding, writing, and editing the news and in copy-reading and make-up. Besides, it's fun to be in the know and exciting to be in the whirl of news gathering.

International Relations Club

President . . . . . GRACE BIRNBAUM
Vice-President . . . . . CARRIE WADE
Secretary . . . . . SHIRLEY MCQUOWN
Treasurer . . . . . BETTY SWIFT

The activities of the International Relations Club got well under way on the Monticello campus early in the fall. Throughout the year the club continued in keeping the students informed about and interested in current international affairs.

Several panel discussions were held, and the first one of these was concerned with the Marshall Plan. In December Homer Young, club sponsor, discussed the question of Palestine. Later on in the year there was a discussion on the topic of the economic crisis in the United States.

The I.R.C. successfully helped sponsor the World Student Service Fund drive and the mock National Republican Nominating Convention which was held in April.

The Social Committee functioned under the co-chairmanship of Jane Eckenrode, Carolyn Gordon, and Dorothy Sellers.

Jane Eckenrode presided at the meetings, served as the Student Council representative, and had charge of the dining room, securing table hostesses, and enforcing dress regulations.

The smokehouse was under the supervision of Carolyn Gordon who, with her many assistants, kept that popular gathering place in ship-shape order.

Dorothy Sellers was in charge of all the teas and receptions, and planned the many dances which were enthusiastically welcomed. Mrs. Florence Duree is faculty sponsor.

The Monticello Ideals

Last year for the first time seven girls were chosen who represented Monticello's Seven Ideals. This year a faculty committee has selected from the student body, girls who in its opinion are living symbols of these Ideals. The Echo staff would like to establish this typification of Monticello Ideals as a lasting tradition. Although each girl is pictured as a representative of one ideal, she personifies each and every one of them.

DIGNITY This is a quality of reserve which comes with emotional, intellectual and social maturity. Dignity is always reflected in the recognition of the fitness of things and in the poise and self-confidence with which one places one's self above that which might be considered unseemly.

BEAUTY Within each girl is the power to recognize and appreciate the beauty of everyday experiences. Life is filled with beauty if one is sensitive to it and eager to find it—if one's eyes are trained to see, one's ears to hear, one's heart to understand and one's mind to remember.

LOYALTY One of the most important of the Monticello Ideals is a deep-seated loyalty to the college, one's friends, one's family and one's own beliefs. This deep-seated emotion will grow through understanding, respect and love.

WISDOM As the Monticello Girl grows in academic stature she seeks to increase her ability to apply her knowledge usefully, for wisdom is the union of knowledge and understanding.

SERVICE Each of us has a distinctive personality and unique talents. The Monticello Girl considers it not only a privilege but a responsibility to share her gifts with all, thereby helping herself and others to develop to the fullest measure.

DEMOCRACY The truly democratic person interests herself in the activities of others. She seeks to understand and respect the ideals and beliefs of her associates while maintaining her own independence of thought and action.

FRIENDSHIP Many of your most cherished and lasting friendships will be made while you are at Monticello. Your college days will afford rich opportunities for making a wide circle of friends. In true friendship there is dignity, beauty, loyalty, service, democracy, and never-failing consideration.

When these ideals have become a part of you, you will have formed an understanding and appreciation of yourself and others. You will have built a strong foundation for living, and Monticello will always be a part of you, for these are the things for which this College stands.

The basketball season was the most successful in recent years. The varsity team scored an unbroken string of victories.

Laura Dixon as manager and captain for the senior team competed with Charlie Mills, captain of the juniors, in inter-class games throughout the season.

The best of all the competing games of the season were with the alumnae and with the faculty. The alumnae game was in February.

The Marlin Pageant, one of the most enjoyable events of the year, includes many months of planning and practicing under the direction of Miss Jane Morrison. Having been carefully selected at the tryouts in the spring and fall, each girl has her own particular job to do.

Each year a theme is worked out on which intricate costumes and difficult swimming techniques are featured. The theme of this year's pageant was "Review of Nations."

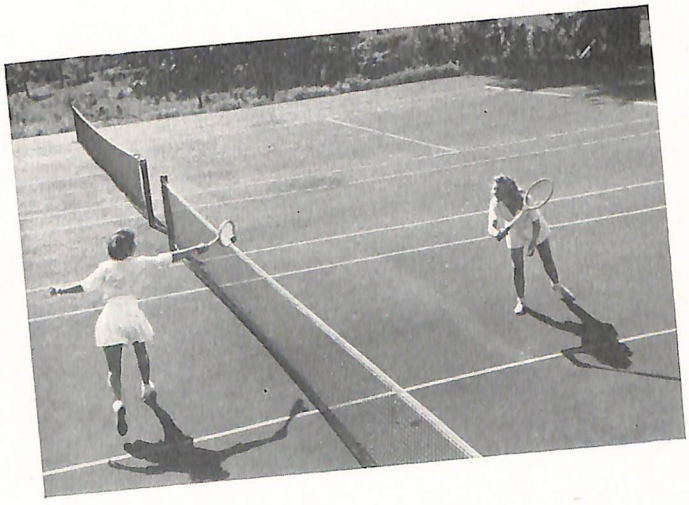
Tennis Club

President . . . . . Jackie Broerman
Secretary . . . . . Martha Housel
Treasurer . . . . . Patricia Woodbury

The tryouts for the Tennis Club are held in the spring and fall.

The players compete with other schools, and also have matches among themselves from which there always emerges a champion at the end of the season.

Miss Maxine Miller, the adviser to the club, coaches the girls on their strokes, serves, and arranges showings of tennis movies for the players.



Manager. . . . . PATRICIA WOODBURY

Where would Monti be if Casey and her team couldn't be at bat? She doesn't know all the skills, cooperation, and instruction that are given with every session, but it doesn't take long when the umpire says "you're out."

Haskell House was the victor in the inter-house games and then also showed the faculty that they couldn't be beaten.

A lot of hard work is put into the game, especially when it comes time for the classes to meet on the diamond.

Volleyball

Manager.....Sarah Jane Nobis

Volleyball becomes more popular each season as a voluntary sport.

The classes are devoted to teaching the inexperienced girls to learn the fundamentals of serving and passing, while the more experienced players acquire new skills.

In spring and fall the girls display their "spikes" and powerful serves on the courts behind the gym where many exciting games are held.

Second row: Hauver, Kayser, Harman, Levy, Davis, C., Paxton, Calas.

Fencing

Manager. . . . . PHYLLIS GARRETT

"En guard," "touche," and "parry carte" are familiar words to expert fencers such as those at Monti.

Several exhibitions given by nationally-known fencers were enjoyed by the whole school.

Inter class tournaments, and those held with other schools, gave the audience a thrill.

Credit for teaching the girls to master these skills goes to Miss Maxine Miller, their instructor.

Contemporary Dance

One of the most popular physical educational activities at Monticello is contemporary dance under the supervision of Miss Louise Walraven. The main purpose of participation is to acquire rhythm, co-ordination, and knowledge in the technique of modern dancers and their work.

During the spring a program was presented, depicting the main historical events surrounding the development of America, through the medium of dance.

We had such good times at the Cabin, LaVista, the dances, and just partyin' in the smokehouse or someone's room. Always food, cigarettes, knitting, music, and lots of laughter and fun.

What a glorious year this has been! From the first to the last day of school, a whirlwind of activities has kept us all busy as bees. We've formed new and enduring friendships, acquired a world of knowledge, and grown just a little older and wiser.

Treasured too are the thoughts of the more serious aspects of campus life. Chapel and vespers, the multitudinous responsibilities borne by everyone, exam periods and blue books, and the friendly advice and help of the faculty. Memories of Monti are deeply imbedded in our hearts and minds. May they never be forgotten, but constantly serve to remind us of the wonderful experiences of our past year.

You Hit Where You Aim With Xpert 22's

Beginners and expert riflemen choose Xpert 22's because of their exceptional accuracy, and win important matches with them.

Whether you're just starting to shoot a 22 rifle or are an old hand at it, you'll welcome the accuracy of Xpert cartridges and the fact that they cost no more than ordinary 22's.

They're smokeless, too and non-corrosive. Obtainable at all good hardware and sporting goods stores.
